Dear Secretary General,

Thank you for your letter dated 30 October 2014.

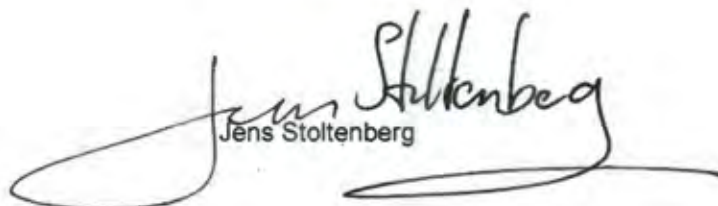

I very much welcome the major contribution of the United Nations to the fight against Ebola in West Africa. I know that several NATO Allies are already making significant contributions. I have no doubt that the co-ordination roles played by the UN Mission for Ebola Emergency Response and the Global Ebola Response Coalition will prove crucial.

I have circulated your letter to all NATO Allies. They are now considering how best to respond to your request bilaterally.

There is the further question of whether NATO itself could play a role in support of the UN effort. Any NATO contribution should respond to a clear request from the United Nations; add value to the current Ebola relief efforts; not duplicate the work of individual nations, the United Nations or other international organisations.

Given the severity of the current Ebola outbreak, NATO remains ready to consider UN requests for assistance. The NATO International Staff will remain in close touch with representatives of the United Nations so that we can stay abreast of developments.

Yours sincerely,

Jens Stoltenberg
