

THE SECRETARY-GENERAL

19 June 2015

Excellency,

I am pleased to inform you that I will host an International Ebola Recovery Conference in New York on 10 July 2015, which will be preceded by technical consultations on 9 July 2015. I have the honour to invite you to participate in the Conference, and I am pleased to enclose for your information the draft programmes of both the Conference on 10 July and the technical consultations on 9 July.

The technical consultations have been specifically developed to draw full attention to the national and sub-regional recovery plans developed by the Governments of Guinea, Liberia and Sierra Leone and the Mano River Union, and aim to provide the opportunity to discuss these plans in depth with the partners to the Conference, Member States, United Nations agencies, foundations, non-governmental organizations and representatives of the private sector.

The International Ebola Recovery Conference has the objective of drawing attention to and mobilising resources for country-led recovery processes over 24 months. The Conference provides an opportunity for the Governments of the three countries primarily affected by the Ebola outbreak to present their recovery priorities for this period, and to call upon the international community to support getting to and staying at zero, as well as to secure continued international commitment to build the resilience necessary to return to the path to sustainable development.

I would be grateful to receive confirmation of your availability to participate in the Conference.

Please accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration.

THE SECRETARY-GENERAL

19 June 2015

Excellency,

I am pleased to inform you that I will host an International Ebola Recovery Conference in New York on 10 July 2015, which will be preceded by technical consultations on 9 July 2015. I have the honour to invite you to speak during the opening session of the Conference, and I am pleased to enclose for your information the draft programmes of both the Conference on 10 July and the technical consultations on 9 July.

The technical consultations have been specifically developed to draw full attention to the national and sub-regional recovery plans developed by the Governments of Guinea, Liberia and Sierra Leone and the Mano River Union, and aim to provide the opportunity to discuss these plans in depth with the partners to the Conference: Member States, United Nations agencies, foundations, non-governmental organizations and representatives of the private sector.

The International Ebola Recovery Conference has the objective of drawing attention to and mobilising resources for country-led recovery processes over 24 months. The Conference provides an opportunity for the Governments of the three countries primarily affected by the Ebola outbreak to present their recovery priorities for this period, and to call upon the international community to support getting to and staying at zero, as well as to secure continued international commitment to build the resilience necessary to return to the path to sustainable development.

I would be grateful to receive confirmation of your availability to participate and provide remarks during the Conference.

Please accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration.
