Excellency,

I have the honour to refer to your letter of 23 July 2007, requesting a meeting between the Secretary-General and His Excellency Mr. José Manuel Zelaya Rosales, President of the Republic of Honduras, during the forthcoming General Debate period of the General Assembly.

After a careful review of the Secretary-General's programme, I regret to inform you that conflicting commitments will not permit a scheduled meeting during the period requested. We trust you will understand that the time available for bilateral meetings during the General Debate is severely limited by the number of multi-State meetings and other events in the margins of the General Assembly that require the Secretary-General's participation.

The Secretary-General would be most grateful if you could convey to His Excellency Mr. José Manuel Zelaya Rosales the Secretary-General's regrets that he will be unable to meet with him on this occasion.

Please accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration.

16 August 2007

Excellency,

I write to acknowledge, with thanks, your request for a meeting between the Secretary-General and His Excellency Mr. José Manuel Zelaya Rosales, President of the Republic of Honduras, between 24 and 26 September 2007.

The period during the opening of the sixty-second session of the General Assembly, the High-level event on Climate Change and the General Debate will be an extremely busy time for all parties. Be assured that your request is being brought to the attention of the Secretary-General. However, we are still receiving information about numerous meetings and events relating to the session that will require the Secretary-General's presence. It is therefore not possible to determine how much time there will be available for bilateral meetings, until mid-September.

In the interim, we would appreciate if your office could inform the Chief of the Scheduling Office, Mr. Yeocheol Yoon, should there be any change in the President's plans, or any additional details regarding the topics to be discussed in the requested meeting.

Please accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration.
