Dear Ms. Salas,

I am writing on behalf of the Scheduling Office of the United Nations Secretary-General, in response to the letter from H.E. Mr. Jose Insulza, Secretary General of the Organization of American States, dated 30 June 2014, inviting the UN Secretary-General or his representative to attend the Twenty-Eighth Meeting of Consultation of Ministers of Foreign Affairs, to be held in Washington, D.C. on 3 July 2014.

Unfortunately, neither the Secretary-General nor his representative will be able to attend the Meeting, due to scheduling reasons. Nevertheless, we wish to take this opportunity to convey his best wishes for a successful event.

With thanks for your kind understanding,

Rommel Christopher Maranan

Dear Alex,

This is a pro forma invitation sent to OAS Member States which is being sent to us because we have observer status at the OAS. We have sometimes sent the OAS desk officer to Washington to monitor such events; but in this case, DPA thinks we would monitor the discussion via the internet. This certainly does not warrant the attendance of any senior UN official, as we are simply invited to observe the session, which will likely be quite lengthy. There is no provision for observers to speak.

DPA is monitoring the issue in question closely and should something emerge that should be reported upward, a note shall be prepared.

Kind regards,
Brenda
