THE SECRETARY-GENERAL

MESSAGE TO THE SHANGHAI EXPO 2010

"LIFE UNDER SUNSHINE" PAVILION

Shanghai, October 2009

The "Life under Sunshine" Pavilion to be established at the 2010 Shanghai Expo will be a significant initiative in the 160-year of world expositions. By promoting the human rights of the world's 650 million persons with disabilities, the Pavilion can help to advance their well-being.

I thank all who are devoting their efforts to achieving this goal, which is a key objective of the United Nations. I also commend the choice of the pavilion's name, which signifies our hopes to create a bright future for all persons with disabilities – and the light that will shine when they have full access in society and can realize their great potential.

Dear Diane,

Scratch that. Let's keep it short 100/150 words...along the same lines of what we the Federation sent.
If there is nothing for DESA to add or change, however, we can use the Federation's draft.

Many thanks.

Dear Nathan

We will be happy to prepare the draft. I wish to recall the email exchanges below, however, in which a draft SG message prepared by the Federation was submitted through UNDP on 29 July (re-attached here for ease of reference). While the word count falls short (100), we can use this as a starting point. Kindly confirm that this is agreeable with your office (it is fine with us).

DRAFT TEXT

The "Life under Sunshine" Pavilion to be set up at the 2010 Shanghai Expo is a creative initiative during the 160 years of the history of the World Expo. It will make significant contribution to the noble cause of promoting the welfare of the 650 million disabled people all over the world and to promoting human rights globally. I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation and best wishes for this initiative. May the "Life under Sunshine" initiative achieve great success and the life of all disabled friends in the world be filled with sunshine and happiness.

Dear Ruxandra,

Apologies for this late reply. We have consulted our substantive division responsible for persons with disabilities, and they agree that the message is fine. We have also consulted the Chinese mission here, given the event. While they also agree that the message is fine, they have noted that a message from the SG on one particular issue - disabilities - may be somewhat narrowly-focused for such an event. They wonder instead if the SG should send an overall message to the Pavilion. Thus they have informed us that they are checking with capital and have asked us to hold off for a day or two longer.

I hope this can accommodate your schedule, and I will let you know as soon as we have further feedback.

Many thanks,
Diane

Dear Colleagues,

We have received the below request for a message from the SG for "Life under Sunshine" Pavilion to be set up at the 2010 Shanghai World Expo. This looks like something we would do but we would welcome DESA's advice whether you feel SG should contribute a message.

We would be grateful if you would send the advice by email to me before the end of next week..

Many thanks, as ever, for your kind assistance.

Subject: request for a SG message for the "Life under Sunshine" Pavilion to be set up at the 2010 Shanghai World Expo

Dear Mr. Garcia,

Our office was approached by the China Disabled Persons' Federation with the request for a congratulatory message from the Secretary General for the "Life under Sunshine" Pavilion to be set up at the 2010 Shanghai World Expo.

This initiative aims to raise the awareness of global disability issues and to promote the rights of persons with disabilities within the framework of the UN's call for global endeavor to promote development and human rights for all.

The organizer provided a draft message for the SG (in Chinese only), which is also included in the attachment. Our office translated the Chinese message into English as follows:

The "Life under Sunshine" Pavilion to be set up at the 2010 Shanghai Expo is a creative initiative during the 160 years of the history of the World Expo. It will make significant contribution to the noble cause of promoting the welfare of the 650 million disabled people all over the world and to promoting human rights globally. I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere appreciation and best wishes for this initiative. May the "Life under Sunshine" initiative achieve great success and the life of all disabled friends in the world be filled with sunshine and happiness.

To improve the original Chinese text, we would suggest to change the last sentence from "祝全世界的残疾兄弟姐妹生活更加幸福美好" to "祝全世界的残疾人朋友们生活充满快乐和阳光". This slight modification has been reflected in the translation.

It would be much appreciated if you could kindly forward the request to relevant authorities at HQs for the attention of the SG's office.

Many thanks for your attention and kind support.

Your Excellency,

On behalf of the China Disabled Persons' Federation (CDPF), a unified organization of/for the 83 million persons with various categories of disabilities in China, I would like to take this occasion to extend sincere appreciation for your concern and support to the world disability issues.

I write this letter to request your kind attention and support to the upcoming Expo 2010 Shanghai China, slated for May-October 2010. In this Expo, a Pavilion "Life under Sunshine" will be set up for persons with disabilities to raise people's awareness of global disability issues. This will be the very first such a Pavilion in the World Expo history of more than 150 years. The initiative was taken in response to the call and actions of the United Nations advocating for global endeavor to promote development and human rights of all. I believe that this Pavilion will bring about a significant impact and greater efforts in promoting the rights of persons with disabilities.

The themes of the Pavilion, sponsored by CDPF, will be "Equality, Participation and Inclusion" and "Invigorating Life Side by Side, Enjoying Sunshine Hand in Hand" in order to deliver a humanitarian message for persons with disabilities and also a message about the desire for a better life of hundreds of millions of persons with disabilities all over the world.

In this connection, I would request and be very grateful if you could kindly present a brief message for the Pavilion in your good name of the Secretary General of the United Nations.

Many thanks again for your attention and support.
