The Executive Office of the Secretary-General of the United Nations presents its compliments to the Permanent Mission of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela to the United Nations and has the honour to refer to the invitation extended to the Secretary-General to open the Thematic Debate on "Democracy and the Millennium Development Goals", to be held in New York on 15 September 2010.

September 2010 is a special month for democracy and development. The International Day of Democracy is only five days away from the Millennium Development Goals Summit. Over 150 world leaders will review the progress made on reducing levels of absolute poverty, hunger and deprivation, poor health, continued illiteracy and gender inequality, and will reaffirm their pledges of the Millennium Summit. It will be paramount to keep in mind the essential contribution that democratic institutions and practices make in consolidating and sustaining development efforts. In this connection, the Secretary-General accepts the invitation of the Permanent Mission of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela to the United Nations to open the Thematic Debate on "Democracy and the Millennium Development Goals" on 15 September 2010.

The Executive Office of the Secretary-General of the United Nations avails itself of this opportunity to renew to the Permanent Mission of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela to the United Nations the assurances of its highest consideration.

Permanent Mission of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela to the United Nations

The Permanent Mission of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela, in its capacity as the Seventh Chairman of the International Conference of New or Restored Democracies, presents its compliments to His Excellency, Mr. Ban Ki Moon, Secretary General of the United Nations.

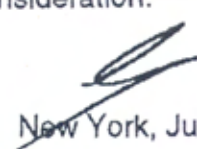

As reflected in Resolution 62/7 of the General Assembly and the Report A/64/372 of the Secretary General, on November 8th 2010 the General Assembly of the United Nations proclaimed September 15th as the International Day of Democracy. In this regard, the Permanent Mission of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela in its capacity as the Seventh Chairman of the International Conference of New or Restored Democracies, will celebrate such a significant day by holding a Thematic Debate on "Democracy and the Millennium Development Goals", during the morning and afternoon sessions of September 15th, 2010.

The Permanent Mission of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela in its capacity as the Seventh Chairman of the International Conference of New or Restored Democracies has the honor to invite His Excellency, Mr. Ban Ki Moon, Secretary General of the United Nations, to join us in the celebration of the International Day of Democracy and offer the opening words of the Thematic Debate during the morning session, on September 15th 2010, at 10:00 a.m.

The Permanent Mission of the Bolivarian Republic of Venezuela, in its capacity as the Seventh Chairman of the International Conference of New or Restored Democracies, avails itself of this opportunity to renew to His Excellency, Mr. Ban Ki Moon, Secretary General of the United Nations, the assurances of its highest consideration.
