CHAMBRE
DES REPRESENTANTS

C/Soc 510/2 f
Léopoldville, le 28 février 1962.-

Monsieur GARDINER Chef de l'Opération de l'O.N.U.C.

LEOPOLDVILLE

Monsieur,

Je soussigné LOUVAIN Maurice, député élu de la région de Maniema, ai l'honneur de venir par la présente lettre solliciter la bienveillante intervention de l'Organisation Internationale sur la situation tragique que traverse le Maniema.

Cette région depuis qu'elle a décidé de se séparer du reste de la province, devient le foyer de l'insécurité. Les centres économiques, en conséquence, sont paralysés de leurs activités, par exemple : les blancs qui en sont propriétaires se trouvent menacés, ainsi la COTONCO ne sait plus acheter du coton aux indigènes, et la récolte des 1961-62 n'a pas pu être écoulée sur le marché.

Vous comprendrez aisément combien pareille situation se repercute défavorablement sur l'état général de la région.

Je vous demande, au nom de la population de Maniema de dépêcher à KASONGO et dans d'autres territoires avoisinants fortement troublés, quelques troupes des Nations Unies afin de ramener l'ordre, la paix et la sécurité des biens et des personnes.

Cela permettra de redresser d'une façon relative l'activité économique.

Je n'ose douter que fidèle aux principes de l'Organisation que vous représentez vous n'hésitez à donner satisfaction à ma demande.

Vous en remerciant, je vous prie d'agréer, Monsieur le Chef de l'Opération de l'O.N.U.C. l'assurance de ma plus haute considération.

LOUVAIN Maurice Député National.

Dear Mr. Dumontet:

Thank you very much for your detailed letter of October 20th concerning the cornmeal supplied by ONUC to voluntary agencies from PL 480 Title II stocks for distribution to Angolan refugees. The information contained in it was most helpful.

I also sincerely appreciate your request to Mr. Strieffert of the League of Red Cross Societies to report to you on the state of the food stocks supplied by ONUC to the voluntary agencies and your intention to keep me informed of your recommendations on the use of U.S. surplus agricultural commodities.

With respect to the additional 4,000 tons of cornmeal, covered by Transfer Authorization 1605, I believe we were simultaneously advised of the cancellation of this T.A. on the basis of our request.

Sincerely yours,

Henry W. Wiens

28 July 1961

Dear Mrs. Azedo,

Many thanks for your kind letter of 20 July 1961.

The Multi-Purpose Food which was shipped in the U.S.S. Eltinge was eventually received in good order. Unfortunately it arrived at the time when the Port of Matadi was closed to some categories of U.N. supplies and it was not until the beginning of April that the shipment reached us in Leopoldville. Since that time a succession of military incidents arising out of inter-tribal hostilities sharply reduced the possibility of transporting relief supplies about the country. For this reason, much to our regret, we were unable to launch a programme of Multi-Purpose Food distribution.

However, we have recently been able to make a small start. A lady pediatrician, Dr. Hassellman, of the German Red Cross, has recently taken charge of the children's hospital in Leopoldville. She is the only doctor on the staff (such is the desperate state of the health services in the Congo) but she has taken some of the Multi-Purpose Food and will use it to supplement the dietary of the child patients.

Mrs. Beatriz Azedo
Distribution Department
Meals for Millions
215 W. Seventh Street
Los Angeles 14, California

In addition, we are hopeful that it will be possible to arrange a distribution of Multi-Purpose Food to the refugees who have been moving into the Congo from Angola, for whom we are providing basic foods. Distribution of the supplies to the refugees is made by missionaries and other voluntary organizations. It has taken some time to organize a smooth-working supply system, but we are now able to consider a systematic distribution of Multi-Purpose Food as a supplement.

When these new distributions are well established, I hope to let you have a report of results. But I trust you will understand that there is an acute shortage of trained people in the Congo, which means that those who are engaged in relief operations must reduce their report writing to the absolute minimum.

While I greatly appreciate your willingness to make another shipment of Multi-Purpose Food to the Congo, I would ask you please not to do so until we are more certain of the possibilities of distributing additional quantities.

With renewed thanks for your kindness.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Hale,

I have but recently assumed my duties as Relief Coordinator and am distressed to discover that your letters of 3 February and 7 May have remained unanswered until now. I begin, therefore, by tendering the sincere apologies of the Chief of Civilian Operations, to which I would like to add my own, for the failure to send you at least an acknowledgement of receipt of your letters. We are very sorry that this neglect occurred.

I am the more sorry because of the generosity with which the British academic community, particularly the students, have responded to the suggestion that they make their own gesture of sympathy and practical support for the needs of the Congo.

I appreciate the desire of your committee to transfer the sums collected as quickly as possible and to see them applied urgently to meet priority needs in the Congo. But I cannot help wondering whether your splendid gesture might not produce greater benefits for the Congo if it were applied to some project of more lasting effect than providing material aid to medical units in the present emergency conditions.

Mr. Alan Hale
Chairman, Appeal Committee
Universities and Colleges Aid to Congo Appeal
103 Gower Street
London W.C. 1
ENGLAND

The plight of the Congolese people continues to cause us grave concern. Economic activity and most of the social services have been greatly reduced, with consequent hardship throughout the Congo. But we have been able to maintain minimum essential services and we have staff and relief supplies of food and medicines on hand to meet the emergencies which arise.

Despite the flux in the political situation, it is our hope that the programme of international assistance to the Congo may now be changed from a purely relief operation, and move into a phase of rehabilitation followed by real progress in economic and social development. I would suggest to your committee that the generosity of the British academic community towards the Congo would be of greatest benefit if it were applied to a project which helped along the process of rehabilitation and development.

Looking beyond the present emergency, by far the greatest need of the Congo is for Congolese men and women who have been educated and trained to administer economic institutions and social services. In short, there is an urgent need to increase the number of Congolese who have received a higher education. Your contributors may like to use the substantial sum they have subscribed to help meet that need. If they would, there are a number of ways in which your funds could be employed. You might, for example, establish a number of fellowships for Congolese students tenable in the United Kingdom. Or you might consider that one of the major handicaps of the Congolese students here in the Congo is that most of them grow up without having acquired that familiarity with life in a modern industrialized society which is such an asset to the students who come from the Atlantic societies. Your contributors may be attracted to the idea of making it possible for Congolese students to share the benefit which many British students have received from vacation tours abroad.

This could be done by paying their air fare Leopoldville - London - Leopoldville (which for students travelling in tourist class would cost £166 per student) and by providing them with a maintenance allowance which would enable them to move about while staying at youth hostels, for example.

Would you please ask your committee to reconsider the kind of assistance they would like to render to the Congo? The choice is mainly between material assistance to medical or social services and financial assistance to Congolese students or graduates. I cannot go much further in proposing a definite plan until I know what your choice would be. If the desire is to give material assistance as an emergency measure, I would propose to consult the senior representative in Leopoldville of the World Health Organization. If on the other hand you wish to help students, I would consult the senior representative of the United Nations Educational and Scientific Council (UNESCO).

May I hear from you further on this? I promise that you shall have a prompt reply.

Please accept my assurance of the deep interest that the Chief of Civilian Operations of UNOC takes in all of the many gestures we receive of generous help for the Congolese people in their present difficulties. The initiative of your committee in launching an appeal in the British academic community and the wonderfully generous response to it are deeply appreciated by us all.

Sincerely yours,

F. W. Tooby

Dear Mr. van Eaden,

I have for some long time wanted to write to you to thank you most sincerely on behalf of the Organization for the most generous contribution made to our Refugee Relief Programme by the Junior Red Cross. While it is true that we have been kept extremely busy in this programme, the real reason for my not writing sooner is that this is a case of "Le mieux est l'ennemi du bien". I wanted to write very fully in a way which would show you and, through you, the Junior Red Cross, the truly incomparable value of their work.

It makes me proud, particularly as a Dutchman, to be able to say quite sincerely that among all the contributions and donations we have received, this effort on the part of the Dutch youth is, in my opinion, perhaps the most deserving of all. Four hundred fifty tons of milk and soup, over one million tins of milk alone; it represents an effort which it is difficult to emulate. True, there have been very important other contributions such as that of the United States Government amounting to thousands of tons of rice, maize flour and milk; there has been a truly magnificent financial contribution from the Oxford Committee for Famine Relief but comparisons are invidious.

Mr. A. van Eaden
Director
Netherlands Red Cross
Gravenhage, Holland

Surely, what matters most in an emergency situation of this kind is the individual's sense of charity. We have seen that impressively demonstrated in contributions from many so-called 'ordinary' people and we have seen it illustrated in the splendid effort of the Dutch Junior Red Cross.

Reports will have reached you that we have now considerably more milk available than we need for the Bakwanga Programme. However, it was never the intention to restrict our activities only to the Balubas of the South Kasai. True, their plight was the most pressing and also by far the biggest and most difficult and therefore had to be dealt with first. I feel it is true to say that there is no likelihood of a recurrence of the Bakwanga famine anywhere else in the Congo. (In this context you will appreciate that the Angola refugees come into a different category.) But this does not mean that there is no need anywhere else. The economy of the country has almost completely broken down. The country's finances are in very great difficulties and those institutions which used to receive subsidies from the government or private sources are now without money. Daily we receive requests from individual localities for assistance. Needless to say we help if we possibly can. There are countless hospitals, dispensaries, sanatoria, leprosaria and, of course, schools, where milk is very badly needed. Apart from Bakwanga, then, it is to these institutions that we dispatch the milk which has been collected so generously by the boys and girls of Holland. I think they have every right to feel very proud of their work and I feel very proud that I have been permitted to see to it that what they have collected has in fact gone to the countless needy Congolese whom the children wanted to help.

I fully realize the responsibility which you, as Director of the Netherlands Red Cross, have towards your public in the sense of having to keep them informed of what has happened to their contributions. I hope that this letter will be somewhat helpful in this regard. In addition, I would venture to mention that I shall be in Holland some time in July, my secondment to the United Nations Operation in the Congo having been finished. I don't know if this is in any way practicable but if you were to think so, I should be quite prepared to take part in a radio or television programme in which the Dutch Junior Red Cross would be highlighted. My thoughts have been running along the lines of perhaps presenting something simple like a series of Congolese stamps to a member of the Junior Red Cross who would represent in that sense the whole of his organization. If you think this idea has any merit, would you please let me know in which way I can help.

Will you please bear in mind that I shall be leaving here on the 13th of June. After that I shall be travelling most of the time but you can write to me at:

Beechwood
Bakeham Lane
Englefield Green (Surrey)
England

I shall be in Holland in all probability around the middle of July.

I am, with renewed thanks and warm regards,

Yours sincerely,

1. The children of the Netherlands, in a campaign to help the children of the Congo, collected tins of condensed milk and soup, numbering almost a million tins. These were packed and shipped in second-hand cartons, and many of the cartons have arrived broken and unfit for further use in distributing the gift.

Dear Mr. Linner:

Pursuant to an official request of the United Nations in New York, the United States Government agreed to make available to the United Nations for relief operations in the Congo 26,000 tons of supplies — 10,000 tons of rice, 10,000 tons of cornmeal, and 6,000 tons of powdered skim milk. These supplies are currently being sent forward. I have received cabled information that the following shipments have been scheduled. This schedule includes commodities both for relief and commercial purposes.

Messrs. Grun and Tooby this week indicated that the 1500 tons of cornmeal of the African Star and the 1500 tons of rice on the Delsantos would not be required at present for relief purposes and should be postponed.

(*) These are the items for commercial purposes.

Mr. Angehrn, on the other hand, indicated that the 1500 tons of rice could be used for commercial imports and requested that appropriate steps be taken to permit its sale in a manner similar to that of the wheat flour being imported from the United States. He also indicated that cornmeal was not acceptable for the commercial requirements in the Leopoldville area and that if possible the shipment of 1500 tons of cornmeal on the African Star should be cancelled.

In addition, he stated that an offer of pea beans ( sometimes called navy beans) was acceptable and that the annual requirements were about 3000 tons. I have requested 1500 tons of beans be shipped before June or July, 500 tons of which should arrive as soon as possible.

I have cabled the above information to the International Cooperation Administration in Washington, and it is my understanding from our conversation of this morning that you would send a similar cable to the United Nations Headquarters in New York.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Miss Bowley,

Thank you for your further letter of 24th February. I am sorry that you have had so much trouble with your remittance through the Post Office, but I am not very surprised to hear that the developments in the political situation during the last two weeks have brought about some changes in the British regulations.

I would suggest that you send the money to the United Nations Information Office, 14/15 Stratford Place, London, W.1., which has been authorized by the United Nations to accept donations for the credit of the United Nations Congo Famine Relief Fund. As soon as the money has been paid in to the London Bank of the United Nations Information Office, it will be transferred to the fund which is under my control.

I quite appreciate your wish to be sure that the money which has been contributed by the children of your School should go entirely to the benefit of the children for whom it was intended without deduction for fund raising expenses of the kind which you describe in your letter. By paying direct to the United Nations you will indeed avoid all such subtraction.

May I again say how much we appreciate the great charity which is being shown in the United Kingdom for the suffering children in the Congo.

Yours sincerely,

J. Grün,

Dear Dr Linner <sup>h</sup> and Mr Grun.

Last weekend I sent you an air mail letter saying I had sent you a money order for £6-0-0 - a small gift from the children of this school to children who needed help in the Belgian Congo and with whom you were in contact. The money was being transferred by the local Post Office.

Unfortunately, although I had filled in a form and received permission to forward this money to you, the G.P.O. have now returned the £6. to me and have said they have no facilities for transferring this money.

I have now contacted the Bank of England and have been told that, if my own bank seeks permission from the Bank of England the latter would send the money to you. One would think I was sending out a thousand pounds with all this fuss! I am sorry it is only such a small amount.

However, would you be good enough to let me know exactly to whom this money should be sent and to which bank, in which town.

Some weeks ago I was told of an organisation, which collects for refugees, who hired a room in an expensive London club at a cost of between £60 and £70 and provided many drinks and cocktail delicacies free to teenagers who would then, presumably, go out to try to organise functions to raise money for the association. It must have cost a great many small sums like ours to give that party so I feel I would rather go to a great deal of trouble personally rather than hand the money over to an organisation which will squander it.

With good wishes for the success of the work you are doing.

Yours sincerely, Miss V. L. Bowley

Dear Lady Grantham,

Your letter of 5th February reached us on the 11th February. Wishing to couple with our message of acknowledgment a confirmation that your remittance of £700.0.0. had safely arrived, I had deferred despatch of this letter until I heard from the local correspondents of Barclays Bank to that effect.

As you will have learnt from the cable that Dr. Linner sent to the Governor to-day, there was an unexplained delay in the transmittal of your remittance through the Bank and it is only to-day that I have been advised of the arrival of the £700.0.0. To my gratified surprise I have also been informed that additional sums of £2,800.0.0. and £2,270.11.6. respectively have arrived and have been credited to our account to-day. The delay in our receiving this information is in all probability due to the political upheavals in the Congo during the last two weeks which have seriously affected, among other things, the working of the cable system. I can quite understand, however, that you must have been very concerned at not receiving news of the safe arrival of these remittances.

It is difficult to express the admiration and gratitude which we of the United Nations in the Congo have felt for the wonderfully generous contributions by the people of Malta for the relief of famine in the Congo.

They will be glad to know, I feel sure, that because of international sympathy for the plight of the refugees in South Kasai we have been able to overcome the worst of the famine and have been able to save tens of thousands of lives that would otherwise almost certainly have been lost. The relief operation must continue, however, at least through June. By then the refugees will have gathered a harvest from the seeds we have supplied, which they have been working hard to get sown in the last month. Many of the people who have survived the famine are seriously ill and in urgent need of medical care; a medical team has been established in the area to care for these victims, for whom tented hospitals have been erected so as to expand the available medical facilities.

The generous contribution of the people of Malta will be added to the United Nations Congo Famine Relief Trust Fund, which is used to supply the food and medicines to the refugees.

In conveying our thanks to the people of Malta would you please also assure them that we are very conscious of the heart-warming surge of charitable sympathy among so many peoples of the world for the plight of the refugees in South Kasai.

Yours very sincerely,

Dear Rosalind,

Will you please let all the members of St. Mark's School know that Dr. Linner and I have received your very kind letter, together with a letter from your Head Teacher, Miss Bowley, telling us that she has sent us a money order for six pounds, the amount which you have collected for the children who are suffering in the Congo.

The money has not reached us yet, but I am sure it will, and when it does, I will write to you again. It will be placed in a special fund called the United Nations Congo Famine Relief Fund, and I will arrange that it is used only for helping children.

There is at this time great trouble in the Congo, as I am sure you know and many people including children have been turned out of their villages. They have had to make new homes on land which is overgrown and wild. Most of them are peasant families who normally live by producing their own food, and of course it takes months to clear the land and sow and cultivate a crop. While waiting for the first harvest from their new lands, many of these families were starving, as Miss Flack saw when she came to the Congo, and has described to you. To save them from dying of starvation, we have flown food to them using sometimes twelve large airplanes a day and I am glad to say that their situation is now much better. There are still many hundreds of children who are thin and ill, however, and we must in any case continue to supply the refugee families with food until they can gather their first harvest.

The children of these suffering families need so much - food, doctor's care and clothing - that the gifts we are receiving for them daily such as the one you have sent from St. Mark's School, will certainly help a very worthy cause.

I am sure the children would thank you themselves, if they could; instead I am sending you a picture of one of them who is obviously feeling better for kindness such as yours.

Yours sincerely,

John Grun

Dear Dr. Linner,

We, the members of St. Mark's school, are writing to you from England.

A few days ago Miss. Black, on the newspaper "The Daily Mail" came to talk to us about the bongo. We found the lecture most interesting as we have been collecting for the children. The lecture made us realize the worthy cause our money has gone to.

We sincerely hope that our donation of six pounds will help and that the suffering in the bongo will very soon come to an end.

Yours sincerely

Dear Dr Liner and Mr Gunn.

I have today sent you a British Money Order for £6-0-0. (six pounds). It will be payable at the G.P.O of Leopoldville and my receipt number is JD 90676. The issuing office is Morden, Surrey.

When we read of the appalling conditions of suffering and starvation among the women and children of the <sup>of St. Marks.</sup> Belgian Congo the children, wanted to help in some way, so we started a collection and Miss Shirley Flack, of the Daily Mail, (whom I believe you have met), came and spoke to us of her visit.

The money we are sending not a large sum, I am afraid, but by sending it to you personally we felt assured that it would be spent specifically on the women and children of the Congo rather than perhaps Chinese refugees. We do hope you will be able to make use of the money and that it will not lose too much on exchange.

We should be grateful for an early acknowledgement.
Yours sincerely, Violet S. Bowley (Miss)

Tooby tells me that you are of the opinion that since we have publicly thanked the Oxford Famine Relief Committee and the Lord Mayor of Leicester for their contributions to the Congo Famine Relief Fund, we should also thank the United Nations Association of the U.K.

While I am sincerely grateful for any contributions made to the Relief Fund, I see a number of difficulties in thanking the kind of contributor that you have in mind. First of all, if we thank the U.K. United Nations Association, we should presumably thank all the other United Nations Associations that are carrying out similar campaigns. Unfortunately, we have no knowledge here of what Associations are carrying out campaigns, nor do we have any information as to the amounts collected.

In view of the fact that contributions of this kind are passed through the books to Headquarters, would it be an idea for HQ to thank these people on our behalf?

Dr. S. Linner, Chief, Civilian Operations
J. Grün, Chief Refugee Relief Coordinator
Swedish and Danish "Save the Children" Fund

The question posed in their letter to you is all too familiar. The facts are well known to you.

1. We have all the food and most of the medicaments required to see us through June 1961.
2. We cannot at present estimate beyond June 1961, because of the many imponderables such as the June harvest.
3. We would really prefer the cash to cover the operational expenses.
4. If they cannot give us the cash, the wisest thing to do would be wait until further requirements, particularly that of the rehabilitation programme, are known.
5. Going through the Missionary Societies meets with the same problems as mentioned under 1. We have helped CPRA with transport, but only because at the time everything was urgently needed. This is no longer so and we would have to decline most further requests for special transport.
6. There are many medical needs throughout the Congo. Supplying the missions with the necessary medicaments would be most useful. We have a very cheap charter offer from Sweden for precisely this purpose. It could not come out of our budget, but there are two other possibilities:

- (i) that UN charter the 'plane on the request of WHO for this work;
- (ii) that the "Save the Children" Fund charter the 'plane and pay the expenses and that some way be found to have the 'plane fly as a UN 'plane under Air Operations control, to ensure safety.

7. It strikes me that this last possibility (6.(ii)) is perhaps the most realistic and constructive thing to do at this stage, particularly if they want to do something now.

Rome, 10 January 1961

Dear Mr. Wright,

With reference to the last paragraph of my letter of 4 January 1961 about emergency aid to hunger stricken refugees in Congo, I wish to inform you that investigations have shown that Norwegian exporters should be able to export a maximum of 3,000 tons of dried fish, consisting of 2,000 tons of coalfish (Norw. sei) and 1,000 tons of cod (Norw. torsk) delivered at Bergen, Norway, within 30 days. They do not want to commit themselves with regard to the price, but they have indicated a price of N. Crs. 4.20 and N.Crs. 4.70, FOB Bergen, for the two kinds of dried fish.

They can also deliver a maximum of 500 tons of smoked herrings at an indicated price of N.Crs. 2.- delivered CIF Congo within 60 days.

Possible orders should be transmitted to Eksportutvalget for Tørrfisk, Strandgaten 11, Bergen.

Yours sincerely,

Your Excellency,

In Dr. Linner's absence, I have much pleasure in acknowledging receipt of your letters of 1 and 4 February in which you informed me that £5,000 sent to you by the "Save the Children Fund" has been transferred to our account. I shall be acknowledging this contribution direct to the Fund.

I should like to take this opportunity to express to you, and through you to Her Majesty's Government, my sincere thanks for the splendid way in which you have responded to our various appeals for assistance. The prompt and efficient action with regard to the tents has been of inestimable value in getting the sorely needed medical programme under way. But also the speedy and efficient way in which Her Majesty's Government has helped us with regard to availability of foods in the neighbouring countries has been of very great help indeed.

Please accept, Your Excellency, the assurance of my highest consideration.

Dear Mr Linner

I have much pleasure in informing you that the £5,000 sent to me by the "Save the Children Fund" has been transferred to the O.N.U.C. Sterling Fund held by the Crédit Congolais. The Secretary has asked that it should be used especially for the relief of the children stricken by the famine in South Kasai.

*Yours sincerely

Since you wrote to me on January 16, 1961, on the subject of tentage for Bakwanga, the British Government with the assistance of the Government of Kenya has been able to supply on loan a total of 120 marquees. Thirty of these marquees have been sent to Usumbura from where they are being collected by the U.N. and the rest are being taken directly from Nairobi to Bakwanga. I sincerely hope that these tents will contribute towards the general amelioration of the situation at Bakwanga and Miabi.

I should, in addition, like to thank you for arranging the visit of Mr. James, 3rd Secretary, to Bakwanga and for the helpfulness and co-operation of the U.N. officials on the spot.

Yours sincerely

SUBJECT: Fund-raising in Denmark for the Congo

Further to our memo COP/ER 17 (26) of 25 January a few more ideas have come up for the Congo collection:

The children in a Copenhagen school collected Kroner 3000 (app. $ 435) in the following manner: The 1400 pupils each contributed at least one good toy wrapped up nicely and put the toys in a "fishing pool". At the cost of 50 øre (app. 7 cents) each package the children were allowed to fish from the pond.

The girls aged 17-20 from a home science school have offered their services as baby or dog-sitters or household help during their free time in a week.

Mr. John Grun, Refugee Relief Coordinator

S. Linner, Chief Civilian Operations

For order's sake I send you below translation of a passage from a letter of January 15 written by the Chairman of the Swedish Save the Children Fund on the Kasai operation:

"We have sent you two cables, but since the first one was addressed to the Stanley Hotel, it apparently has not reached you.

"In the first cable we informed you that we reserved Cr. 150,000 for the Kasai refugees, and asked you for your kind advice as to how to use these funds, and as to suitable distribution channels.

"Whilst waiting for your cabled reply we had a visit from representatives of the Danish Save the Children Fund who wanted to discuss with us a possible joint Kasai contribution.

"Furthermore, the Svenska Missionsförbundet (Missionary Council) offered us to pool our goods via their organisation in Kasai, an American Mission disposing of 54 small hospitals and as many dispensaries. They told us that UN also uses the Mission as distributors to the refugees of the goods the Swedish Missionary Council is sending down, and also of so-called UN goods. They also stated that the Swedish Missionary Council was dependent on UN transport.

"Is it advisable that the Save the Children Fund uses the system applied by the Swedish Missionary Council, that is to say, connecting with the UN?

"At present Save the Children Fund disposes of more than Cr. 300,000 for the Congo operation. If you could possibly cable us any further advice as to how to use this sum, we will be very grateful."

STOCKHOLM den 15 jan. 1961

Herr Doktor.

Vi tackar varmt för dagens telegram rörande Kasai-hjälpen, emottaget denna dag.

Rädda Barnen har avsänt två telegram men då det första adresserats till Stanley Hotel synes det inte ha kommit Eder tillhanda.

I anslutning till Eder appell för Kasai-flyktingarna, riktad till regeringar, organisationer o.a. föll det sig naturligt även för Rädda Barnen att göra en insats för dessa. I första telegrammet meddelade vi att RB avsatt kr. 150,000:- för ändamålet ifråga samtidigt som vi utbad oss om Edert benägna råd rörande dess utnyttjande och förslag på lämplig distributionsorgan.

Under "väntetiden" å svarstelegram anlände representanter för danska Rädda Barnen som ville överlägga om en ev. gemensam Kasai-insats.

Vidare blev vi påstötta av Svenska Missionsförbundet som erbjöd oss att poola våra varor via SMFs organ i Kasai, en amerikansk mission som disponerar över 54 små sjukhus, lika många sjukstugor. Man meddelade samtidigt att FN-organen utnyttjar även missionärerna som distributörer till flyktingarna av de varor SMF sänder ner och även s.k. FN-varor. Dock vore SMF beroende av FNs transportorgan.

Är det lämpligt att RB begagnar sig av SMF-systemet förbundet alltså med FN?

Beträffande användandet av Edert namn i samband med RBs insamlingsaktion så har detta skett, men utan vårt förvållande.

En av våra medarbetare blev en dag uppringd av en reporter från tidn. Expressen. Det enda som därvid från vederbörandes sida utsades som hade samband med Edert namn var att Rädda Barnen inspirerats till sin insamling av Eder allmänna appell. Detta gav tydligen den uppseendeväckande okunnige reportern anledning kombinera Rädda Barnen-aktionen med Edert namn. Vi har givetvis gjort ett tillrättaläggande och numera är det hela fullt okay.

UNICEF-kommitten här råkade också ut för reportens fadäser och angavs plötsligt som insamlingsorgan för Kasai-flyktingarna. Även detta är numera uppklarat.

För närv. förfogar Rädda Barnen över ca. kr. 300,000:- för Kongo-hjälpen. Har Doktern någon möjlighet att telegramledes ge oss ytterligare råd - så vore vi naturligtvis oändligt tacksamma.

Med utmärkt höfaktning.
RÄDDA BARNENS RIKSFÖRBUND.
Eder tillgivna

MEDSÄND VÄNLIGEN PORTO - 1000-tals
kronor kan sparas till hjälpverksamheten.

Brev bör adresseras till Rädda Barnens Riksförbund, ej till en enskild funktionär.

12 January 1961

1. Gift of palm oil from Unilever (Congo) Ltd.

I was visited by Mr. Griffiths and Mr. de Bellisen of Unilever. The palm oil will be made available at the Unilever plantation at Brabanta on the Congo above Port Francqui. Shipment from the plantation and from Port Francqui is normally made in bulk, and the first suggestion was that the palm oil should be delivered to us by rail in a tank wagon. I pointed out that it would be impracticable to make distribution from a tank wagon at railhead in Luluabourg. They suggested that enough secondhand oil drums might be available or that, in any case, some new drums were probably to be found in Leopoldville. They themselves were very short of drums and they made no move to offer to buy sufficient drums to pack this gift.

I undertook to see if I could find drums from the following sources:

- (a) I would find out whether the drums which contained previous supplies sent to Bakwanga were still available, empty, in Bakwanga;
- (b) I would ask ONUC, Luluabourg, to explore the possibility of gathering secondhand palm oil drums in the Luluabourg area;
- (c) if the above numbers were not sufficient, I would then further explore the possibility of finding new drums.

The standard drum is of 4 gallons and averages 5 drums to the ton of palm oil. As the proposed monthly supply is 500 tons and it is very doubtful whether we can arrange a better turn-around of the drums between Port Francqui and Bakwanga than 15 days, we shall need something like 1,200 drums. I am inclined to think, however, that the proposed ration of palm oil, though justified on nutritional grounds, may be more than the people are accustomed to and would be willing to use. I think we need not acquire at the outside more than 800 drums. They probably will cost locally about the equivalent of 5 dollars, on an average.

...Anticipating my visit, Forminière made an announcement of a donation of 600 tons of rice, the first sign of any awareness on their part of the existence of the problem. The Press were impressed by the stark fact of people dying of hunger in an area bursting with diamonds and with nothing being done before the UN stepped in, to help them. The point of the visit taking place on Christmas day also made an impact and I hope that the facts of this human tragedy will receive graphic press coverage. ...
