Dear Vijay,

I write to invite you to an Indian Classical Music Concert by Amjad Ali Khan on September 9, 2010 at 7.30 pm at the United Nations (CR 4, NLB). Maestro Amjad Ali Khan, will be joined by his sons Amaan Ali Khan and Ayaan Ali Khan for a 90 minute performance, an "Ode to Peace", Amjad Ali Khan, who plays the sarod, is one of India's greatest living artists. His music, rooted in India's classical tradition, is not limited by boundaries. It finds resonance across cultures and has been a bridge between nations and peoples. I am sure that you will find attending the concert a moving experience.

A short write-up on the Maestro and his music is attached.

The "Ode to Peace" is a concert that will celebrate diversity even as it stresses the essential unity of humankind. The performance, which is being held on the eve of 9/11, will honour those who have fallen victims to terrorism and remind us of the need to make common cause against the forces of intolerance and fundamentalism.

Entry to the event is by invitation only. Since the seating capacity of the General Assembly hall is limited, I would be grateful for an indication of the number of invitations that you will require (Contact person: Second Secretary Rakesh Adlakha, Tel: 212-338- 9163; email rakeshadlakha@yahoo.com) to enable us to send entry passes well in time.

With best regards,

Yours sincerely,

(H.S. Puri)
