Dear Mr. Secretary-General:

I cannot tell you how touched and pleased I was to receive your thoughtful and warm congratulations on the occasion of my 98th birthday. It meant more to me than I can say.

Since its inception, my father, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., my brother, Nelson, and indeed all of our family, believed deeply in the importance of the United Nations and provided it with support in a variety of ways. I am especially grateful to you for your references to my own personal involvement.

With my deep appreciation,

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in dark ink, appearing to read "David".
