

Fw: H.E. Ban Ki-Moon, UNO Secretary-General: Participation in Global Cooperation Day October 4th 2013

SGCentral to: Margaret King

Sent by: Jill Annitto

13/09/2013 09:36 AM

----- Forwarded by Jill Annitto/NY/UNO on 13/09/2013 09:36 AM -----

From: Adam Greenwell <towngreenmusic@gmail.com>
To: Andrew Pothecary <apothecary@forestnation.com>,
Date: 12/09/2013 06:29 AM
Subject: H.E. Ban Ki-Moon, UNO Secretary-General: Participation in Global Cooperation Day October 4th 2013

Your Excellency,

Global Cooperation Day will be a powerful, visual event of simultaneous tree-planting around the world. From the G20 and world's most affluent nations to the world's "fragile nations". From everyday citizens to the world famous. The powerful imagery of people planting trees... how reforestation preserves life; how it protects water supply and water security, thereby enabling us to water the fields of humanity.

Growing and planting a tree is a symbolic and important act that we can all do, no matter who you are or where you live. It will help us connect with nature and help us all connect to each other.

We will provide you with all the assistance needed so you can participate in planting a tree for Global Cooperation Day. All you have to do is plant a tree and show that you care.

For Global Cooperation Day we have chosen October 4th because it is the Feast Day of Saint Francis of Assisi, Patron Saint of the Ecology

You can see more information about Global Cooperation Day on the following link:

<http://forestnation.com/global-cooperation-day/>

Please confirm your participation as soon as possible.

You plant one we plant one

Andrew Pothecary
CEO ForestNation
+44 845 272 3527

Adam Greenwell, Executive Producer,
Watering the Fields of Humanity : Liz Greenwell's Journey to Inspire the World.
+64 6 356 9381

<http://forestnation.com/global-cooperation-day/>

SC4/08/002