Your Excellency!

I have the honor to invite you to take part in the 1st International Annual Business Conference «ABC: Ukraine & Partners», which will be held on June 13-14, 2013 in Kyiv, with the participation of the heads of government, ministers, prominent politicians and diplomats from Ukraine's partner states, as well as leaders of major business, investment, finance and banking, industrial structures and associations. ✓

In parallel with improving the dialogue between the Government and business this conference aims at joining efforts of the government and business leaders in order to find ways of mutually beneficial cooperation and overcoming the negative impact of the global economic crisis.

Today the question of further development of Ukraine as a country with unique geopolitical location and great economic potential attracts close attention both from the European Union, the CIS, Russia, China and other global centers of influence.

In this context, we would like our conference to be regarded not only as a new European discussion platform, but as a regional forum for presenting modern concepts of economic cooperation and business. I believe that in this sense the ancient Kyiv will be a good place to host such a conference and contribute to it fruitful work.

I am confident that your participation in future discussions of the 1st International Annual Business Conference «ABC: Ukraine & Partners» will not only add significance to our forum, but also serve for creating synergy needed to achieve the objectives of the Conference. ✓
