Dear Mr. Calvani,

On behalf of the Secretary-General, I thank you for your letter of 22 October 2008, inviting him to open the second International Conference to be organized by the United Nations International Crime and Justice Research Institute on 21 January 2009 in Turin.

Unfortunately, I have to inform you that prior commitments will preclude the Secretary-General's participation. Let me take this opportunity to convey his best wishes for a successful event.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mr. Secretary-General,

It is with great pleasure that I write to you with regard to the second International Conference that UNICRI is organizing at the UN Headquarters.

The Conference, entitled "Innovative Policies to Advance Security Governance", will take place on the 21 January 2009 and is aimed to brief the Member States, international and regional organisations and civil society on the action undertaken by UNICRI's Laboratory on Security Governance and Counter-Terrorism to foster its security governance approach in different thematic fields.

The event will be an opportunity to provide an overview of some of the main activities developed the Laboratory, including those highlighted in your last report on the implementation of the United Nations Global Counter-Terrorism Strategy. Main speakers will be policy makers, senior officials of international organizations and relevant representatives of the private sector. The contributors will offer examples of the concrete application of the security governance approach to the design and implementation of national security policies.

✓ Within this framework, Mr. Secretary General, I would be greatly obliged if you could consider my invitation to open the event on the morning of the 21 January. For your ease of reference, a draft agenda is attached. My staff and I are at your disposal for any further information you may require.

In the hope to hear from you soon, please accept, Excellency, the assurance of my highest esteem.

Sandro Calvani
