Shortly after the United Nations War Crimes Commission was created, it recommended to the Governments that National War Crimes Offices be established to investigate in the first instance reports concerning war crimes and to submit to the Commission in the form requested, charges concerning the offences investigated by them.

In response to the Commission's recommendation, Agencies of this kind were set up by all Governments, members of the Commission.

In the investigation of war crimes, and examination of charges submitted by the National Offices, the Commission, as an international organisation decided whether there was a case justifying the arrest and handing over for trial of the accused by the apprehending authorities who were thus not called upon to act upon ex parte statements by a single Government.

Cases filed with the Commission were, according to the Commission's rules of procedure, examined by Committee I (Committee on Facts and Evidence), in the presence of representatives of the Governments (National Offices) submitting the charges. The Commission then reported to the member Governments cases of war crimes in which there appeared to be either prima facie evidence sufficient to justify the apprehension and trial of individuals accused of war crimes, or else sufficient grounds to consider the wanted persons as suspects or material witnesses. This was the second stage of Committee I's work and in this respect the Commission has functioned in a manner resembling that of a committing magistrate, reporting to the Governments names of the individuals accused. This was done in the form of the Commission's Lists of War Criminals with which also all apprehending authorities concerned were supplied and thus were called upon to take the necessary action.

The present document covers only the statistical aspect of over four years work of Committee I composed of the following Members and their Deputies:

Chairmen: Monsieur de Baer (Belgium) up to 25 September, 1947.
Sir Robert Craigie (United Kingdom) from 25 September, 1947.

to 9 January 1948.

and, at the earlier stage of its activities, also of:

Mr. J. Oldham (deputy) (Australia)

TABLE I

TOTAL NUMBER OF CASES (DOSSIERS) RECEIVED BY THE COMMISSION

The following figures show the total number of cases (dossiers) decided upon by the Commission, irrespective of the nationality of war criminals charged therein and the Governments (members of the Commission) by which they have been submitted.

Year	Cases (Dossiers)
1944	464
1945	1,726
1946	2,512
1947	2,817

	<hr/>
	8,178

Note

1. First cases registered by the Commission were received on 1st February, 1944.
2. All cases fall under two categories: (a) individual cases and (b) collective cases, according to whether they include charges against one or more persons or units, and no distinction between these two categories has been made while arriving at the above figures.
3. The total number of persons and units actually charged and listed by the Commission (Tables II, III and the following) is considerably higher than that of cases (dossiers) submitted. The following figures show the total number of persons and units listed, irrespective of their nationality.

Year	Persons and Units
1944	762
1945	8,442

	<hr/>
	36,810

EXPLANATORY NOTE ON TABLES II - VIII.

The following Tables II and III, and consequently also Tables IV-VIII, have been set up on the basis of periodical Lists of War Criminals issued by the Commission and not upon the General Alphabetical Index of names. As all cases received by the Commission were being registered and examined by Committee I according to countries submitting them, the periodical Lists of War Criminals have been prepared accordingly, each of them including all persons or units charged by one country, irrespective of whether any of them might have been also charged by any other country. Some of them, in fact, have been charged several times. Therefore, the figures shown in Tables II and III do not represent the total number of persons and units actually listed in the General Alphabetical Index of War Criminals kept by the Commission. As the publication of such alphabetical and consolidated index must necessarily be deferred until the remaining Lists are issued, the total number of persons and units actually listed by the Commission to date is not available. Nevertheless, it may be safely assumed that the number of persons and units listed several times in the periodical Lists does not exceed 1% of the total figures in Tables II and III.

While arriving at the figures shown in Tables II-VIII, account has been taken of all changes and alterations in each List as indicated in subsequent Lists.

Repartition of Tables II and III according to individual countries submitting charges, and nationality of persons or units charged and listed, is shown in Tables IV-VIII.

Cases which have not been accepted by Committee I, and adjourned or withdrawn cases, are shown in Table X.

TABLE II

To this category belong also cases which, in the opinion of Committee I, do not constitute a prima facie case of a war crime, or even a war crime at all.
