Note to the Secretary-General

Climate Change Conference ✓

Bali, Indonesia, 3-14 December 2007 ✓

The Government of Indonesia has made a very significant investment in security for the above conference and this note respectfully suggests that it would be appropriate to express grateful thanks for these considerable endeavours during the course of your attendance at this event.

This conference has been a major security undertaking since its inception, but the profile of the event has been significantly raised since the UN General Assembly in September.

As a result of these developments, an enhanced security plan was discussed with the Indonesian authorities. The host country response was extremely professional and supportive and, as a result, the host country contribution to the security and safety of this event has been increased both in the Extra-Territorial Zone (where the UN leads on security issues) and in the wider area around the Extra-Territorial Zone (where the host country leads).

UNDSS will continue to engage closely with the Indonesian authorities prior to and during this event.

Submitted for your consideration.
